

Oh! The Places You'll Go: A Panel Presentation of Career Pathways

Join us for an evening of discussion about various jobs and careers and the roads members of the AWIS-PHL leadership have taken or continue to travel. Some of us have walked a straight line, and others of us have meandered a bit more to discover where our passions lie and talents flourish. We will discuss our career paths in fields such as academia, teaching, scientific and medical writing, pharma/biotech R&D, contract research organizations, entrepreneurship, and others.

Come ready to ask questions and explore new directions to help lead you as you progress in your career.
