Please find enclosed a contribution to honor the memory of Edyth Malin. Dr. Malin was an amazing achiever and was always devoted to the ethics of science.

Her mother, Marie Lasky, was one of nine children who came to this country from Hungary in the early years of the 20th century.

Her parents recognized her intelligence and encouraged her to pursue her education and her interest in science at a time when women were not easily recognized for their scientific interests.

Edyth was a devoted mother, a loving wife to Dr. Morton Malin, a superb scientist. I will always be proud to have had the privilege of knowing her as my cousin.

Sincerely,

Anita Wallis Bloom
